“For me, with the natural supports, it’s been very helpful. My co-workers have been great. I’ll admit that sometimes I need a little bit more prompting than maybe some other people. But my co-workers who are on the floor provide that support, and the individuals I help enjoy helping out too, especially with little things like sweeping up, using a mop or broom, or passing out supplies. Little stuff like that really helps, and having a mentor like I have.”
